“From on-site to secondary processing we need a vast ramp-up in available technology, or companies need to work on licensing agreements that let them bring over European tech to handle the vast amount of raw material we could see soon.”

– Thomas Dermody, Executive Director
U.S.-based Industrial Hemp Research Foundation (IHRF)

6 Reasons why NoCo, and the Trans-Atlantic Hemp Alliance are important:

1. USA is the most dynamic and varied hemp consumer market in the world
2. Need for proven technology and processes in USA for all hemp sectors
3. Need for consulting/knowhow from Europeans' experiences
4. Collaboration helps speed up the science of hemp – from seed science to R&D
5. Major financing for the industry is pent up in USA, looking for investment
6. Great opportunity to develop strategic partnerships
