22nd EIHA Conference 2025 - The future of European Industrial Hemp meets in Berlin in June

EIHA, in collaboration with our trusted partner Experience Hemp, is proud to welcome you to the 22nd EIHA Conference, taking place on 12th-13th of June 2025 in Berlin, Germany. After a successful edition last year in Prague, we are excited to bring the leading event for the European hemp industry to the vibrant German capital, at a time and place in which the hemp and cannabis sectors are experiencing historic transformations.

A next-level conference programme

The 2025 agenda is currently being finalised, but we can already guarantee an outstanding line-up of expert panels, keynote speeches, and interactive sessions. This year, we are going big, covering every crucial corner of the hemp sector - from cutting-edge agricultural innovations to the future of textiles, sustainable construction, and global market developments.

One of the programme's key highlights will explore Germany's evolving policy landscape and its impact on the industrial hemp industry. We are delighted to welcome a senior official from the German Ministry of Agriculture, alongside leading industry experts, for an exclusive discussion. This session will offer exclusive insights into the ongoing policy reform in Germany - a can't-miss discussion at the very heart of the European hemp industry's future! We will also dive deep into:

- Regenerative agriculture and climate-resilient hemp farming.
- Innovations in textile fibres and sustainable fashion.
- The evolution of hempcrete and natural construction materials.
- The global outlook for CBD, including regulatory updates and emerging markets.
- International case studies from the USA, South Africa, India, Latin America, and others.
